VOL. XX.—NO. 5892 PORTLAND, OREGON TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 10, 1880 PRICE—TEN CENTS.

GENERAL NEWS.

BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN

Barkis is Willing.

New York Feb 9—The New York [illegible] of to-morrow will print the following editorial paragraph:

A near personal and [illegible] friend of ex-President Grant, who doubtless knows whereof he speaks, authorizes the following as a correct statement of the general's position with reference to the presidency. He [illegible] Grant [illegible] now, nor has he ever [illegible] candidate for the presidential nomination [illegible] the republican national convention [illegible] nominate him in the same manner as another [illegible] would be nominated he would deem [illegible] the country and to the party to accept. [illegible] abroad he was a stranger to the contest [illegible] writing for the presidential nomination [illegible] no letters on the subject to any [illegible] assertions to the contrary are without foundation in fact.

Celebrating their New Year

Chicago Feb 9—The Chinamen to-day, of whom there are 150 in the city, celebrated New Year and squared their debts in their peculiar way. The celebration was [illegible].

Disastrous Explosion at Detroit.

Detroit, Feb 9—A boiler in the malt house of the Hawley Malt Co in this city exploded at about 9 this morning demolishing the engine house and damaging the malt house to the extent of $200,000. Two men were in the engine room at the time of the accident, but escaped with slight injury.

Explosion of Nitro-Glycerine

Bradford, Pa, Howard Hackett and James Feeney were driving to Callville with 100 pounds of nitro-glycerine when the sleigh was upset. An explosion followed and the two men and the horses were killed. The sleigh was demolished and three houses and a barn, five rods away wrecked.

The Last Spike

Denver, Feb 9—At 11:30 to-day the last spike necessary to complete the branch of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad to Santa Fe, was driven by Gov Wallace, Gen Hatch and staff the legislature and other notables attending. There is much rejoicing at Santa Fe.

The Londonderry Outrage

Manchester, N H, Feb 9—Mrs Dillingham, the victim of her nephew's fiendish assault at Londonderry, was alive this afternoon, but sinking rapidly and will probably die before morning. Young Dillingham is the victim of yellow covered literature of the basest sort, and read with eagerness a detailed account of a cruel murder. He will be detained for trial.

Prompt and Effective Justice

Las Vegas, New Mexico, Feb 6—The "cow boys"—Jim West, John Dorsey and Tom Henry—implicated in the shooting of Carson two weeks ago, were dragged from their cells this morning by a mob of 75 armed men, who broke into the jailer's room and forced him to give up the keys. They were dragged to the central plaza and ropes thrown over the beams of the windmill pump. West was hauled up and strangled, but the impatient mob soon began firing, and in a short time Dorsey and Henry were riddled with balls. There was no resistance to the mob. The bodies were removed during the forenoon.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

Better Report from Ireland.

Dublin, Feb. 9.—Though deplorable accounts still come from some districts, there is generally a more hopeful spirit among the people. New applications for loans by landowners the past week reached 200, amount applied, £111,000, since the 22d of November, £3,766,000. The board of public works takes care that laborers are paid in cash, and that the amount of the first issue has been expended in substantial work before they have a second installment.

Dublin, Feb. 9—Relief measures have already had a beneficial effect and a more hopeful spirit is growing among the people.

Parnell Criticised.

Parnell's attack on the relief committees is condemned even by some of his most ardent admirers. The Irishman newspaper strongly deprecates his language about the Mansion house fund.

The British Government Considering Relief Measures.

The members of the government and heads of the Irish departments met to-day at the official residence of the chancellor of the exchequer to devise means for meeting the distress in Ireland.

The English Ballot Act.

London, Feb. 9.—In the house of commons the chancellor of the exchequer stated that he intends proposing the renewal of the ballot act for one year, so as to give the new parliament opportunity to consider the question. He also said he intends shortly to introduce bills on the corrupt practices at elections, and for distributing six seats now vacant in the house of commons, by disfranchisement of certain towns as punishment for bribery.

The Theater Royal at Dublin Burned.

Dublin, Feb. 9.—The Theater Royal was completely destroyed by fire this afternoon and is still burning, and adjoining houses are endangered. The police inspector and one workman were injured. The military keep order and assist the fire department. There was to have been a day performance this afternoon, at which the duke and duchess of Marlborough were to be present. The fire was occasioned by the ignition of the curtains of their state box.

Later.—The Theater Royal is still burning. The manager of the theater, the property man and four assistants perished in the flames. The lord lieutenant was present during the burning. The loss is estimated to be £200,000.

A Comet.

Director Gould, of the national observatory, at Cordova, Argentine Republic, telegraphs that a great comet is passing the sun in a northward direction.

Before the Commons.

London, Feb 9—In the house this afternoon the duke of Argyle admitted that in his dispatch to Shere Ali in 1869 he styled Queen Victoria the "Empress of India," having used those words because they could be more easily translated in the Persian language.

Michael Davitt, Irish agitator, was in the gallery of the house of commons to-day listening to debates on the home rule amendment to the address in reply to a speech from the throne.

Denial.

Paris, Feb 9—Admiral Jaureguiberry's resignation is officially denied.

Personal

Paris, Feb 9.—Senator Cremieux is confined to his bed by a violent attack of bronchitis. His illness excites some uneasiness.

The French Ministry.

Paris, Feb 9—There is a serious possibility of Admiral Jaureguiberry resigning from the ministry of marine in consequence of the budget committee's decision to postpone a vote of 800,000 francs for colonial defenses until the proper data be forthcoming. It is said that Le Pere, minister of the interior will also resign.

Vesuvius on a Bust.

Naples, Feb 9—An eruption of Mount Vesuvius began on Saturday.

Official Matters.

Vienna, Feb 9—It is thought that Kriegsau's appointment as educational minister has only been deferred till the report of Dr Stremayr's resignation is officially denied.

Disgraceful Scene.

Berlin, Feb 8—A disgraceful scene occurred in the lower house of the diet yesterday during debate on public worship estimates caused by some member of the center party laughing loudly while the imperial order regarding Catholic bishops was being read.

Russia will not Allow England to Control Herat

Vienna Feb 9—Labanoff, Russian ambassador at London, has received fresh orders from his government to hint in his discussion with the English cabinet on Asiatic affairs, that Russia considers Herat as lying beyond England's sphere and that she could not therefore suffer Herat to be exclusively subordinated to British influence.

Russian Matters

[illegible]—Mennonites [illegible] exemption from military service on account of their religion will this year furnish [illegible].

[illegible] has intelligence from Trans-Caucasia [illegible] the condition of the inhabitants of the [illegible] [illegible] has been [illegible] by the [illegible] people.

Boat Race on the Tyne

London, Feb 9—A boat race over the Tyne, the championship, between Elliott and Boyd was won by Boyd, the favorite, by four lengths.

A Fight in Afghanistan

London Feb 9—The Times has the following from Candahar: Reports have been received here of a second and more bloody struggle between rival parties at Herat. The loyal troops attacked the Cabulese stationed there unawares and inflicted heavy loss before the Cabulese could bring their artillery to bear on their assailants. When this was done the Heratis were defeated with great slaughter.

VANDERBILT'S MILLIONS.

Cornelius Tries a New Scheme to Make William Pungle

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN

New York, Feb 9—Cornelius J Vanderbilt has applied to Judge Donohue to have his brother William H Vanderbilt removed as trustee from the trust imposed upon him and Edwin D Worcester, in execution of the trust deed made by William H Vanderbilt in settlement of all litigation between him and Cornelius. The latter's petition sets forth that he and William are the surviving sons of the late Cornelius Vanderbilt; that the activities of business are essential to his health and comfort, and having paid out the greater portion of what he has received in the settlement of old debts he has not enough to properly carry on a business; that by the trust deed he is only allowed interest on the money invested, and that the securities which represent it, having now reached their highest value and being overrated on account of the connection of Wm H, he maintains that they should be sold. He further asks that one-half of the $400,000 invested be paid him. He states that his brother is worth over $100,000,000 and that his receiving the money asked for would work no injury to any one. The petition further states and sets forth fully the letter written by petitioner to Wm H, which recites the above facts and also the reply of the letter denying the application, and on that ground he appeals to the court. The trust deed of which Edwin D Worcester is trustee, gives to Cornelius, during his life an income of the following property: 1500 shares at $100 each of the New York Central stock, 1000 shares at $500 each of capital stock of New York & Harlem railroad; $100,000 of 3 and 5 per cent bonds of Canada Southern Railway Co, due in 1980 and $58,000 of second mortgage 7 per cent bonds of Lake Shore & Michigan Southern Railway Co, due in 1903. There is also a clause stating that by consent of Wm H and Cornelius Vanderbilt and the trustee the trust may terminate and principal be paid to Cornelius. Judge Donohue denies the application and gives a lengthy opinion in which he fully reviews the facts as stated.

PRESIDENT MAKING.

Roundabout Assurance that Conkling and New York will Support Blaine After Grant.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

Washington, Feb. 9—The publication of what purports to be a private letter from C. W Moulton to Secretary Sherman, regarding Senator Conkling's position towards Sherman in the event of Grant's withdrawal, has been the subject of no little comment among the supporters of Grant and Blaine in congress. Secretary Sherman's statement that he has no doubt that this letter correctly represents the true condition of the relations of Conkling towards his candidacy, has only intensified the feeling in political circles. Your correspondent was assured to-day by a United States Senator, a personal friend of Senator Conkling, and who is fully informed as to the latter's views, that the Moulton letter grossly misrepresents the New York senator and is utterly devoid of truth. Conkling expects General Grant to be the nominee of the Chicago convention, but in the event of that not being the case, he will not transfer his strength to Sherman, as alleged. As between Sherman and Blaine he decidedly prefers the latter and his friends will be advised to throw their strength for Blaine. The senator says further that Gov Cornell and Gen Arthur of New York are warmly for Blaine, after Grant, and that Blaine will undoubtedly carry the New York delegation if Grant is withdrawn.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Temperance in High Places.

Washington Feb. 9—The American Congressional Temperance Society has elected Secretary of the Navy Thompson president.

The Northern Pacific.

The senate committee on railroads to-day heard an additional argument from Col Gray, attorney for the Northern Pacific company, in advocacy of the pending bill for a six years' extension of the time stipulated in that company's charter for completion of the road. The bill was not taken up for action to-day.

Confirmations.

The senate has confirmed Geo D Bowen register of the land office at La Messila, N M, and Samuel W Sherfrey receiver of public moneys at the same place.

A Bill to Relieve Georgia.

Representative Hammond has introduced a bill for the relief of Georgia. It directs the secretary of the treasury to pay to the state of Georgia the proceeds of all cotton taken from her possession by agents of the United States which may be ascertained to be in the treasury of the United States.

A War Claim Disallowed.

The house committee on war claims decided to-day to report adversely the claim of Burbridge & Co amounting to $40,000, for sugar, molasses and rum sequestered by Gen B F Butler at New Orleans.

Gen. Sherman not Sued for Libel

Gen Sherman sends a card to the associated press to correct the impression that Gen Boynton has begun suit against him for libel and says Boynton has taken no steps except for publication in newspapers.

The President Considering Major Reno's Request

Major Reno has telegraphed the president for permission to resign and the president is considering the request. Meanwhile the war department delays the approval of the sentence of the court martial dismissing him.

New Rules Governing the Running of Steamboats in Western Waters

The board of supervising inspectors of steam vessels adjourned to-day after making the rule that henceforth upon western rivers descending steamers have absolute right of way. The form of all certificates of inspection of passenger, freight, ferry and towing steamboats was changed by striking from the backs thereof the memorandum of inspection and transferring to the face of the certificate whatever is deemed essential; an extra man is to be in or near the pilot house on passenger and ferry steamers at all times. Ferry steamers are required to carry the same lights as passenger steamers on the same streams. Pilots are to be examined for color blindness.

MEXICO

Successful Revolution in Lower California

San Diego Feb 9—Official information was received to-day from San Rafael, Lower California, of the arrival there of Gen Marquez. The forces of the federal government are said to have made no opposition to him. It is reported that Marquez after fixing things politically will depart for Sonora and carry on his movement against Diaz in the northern states of Mexico.

The hatchet used by myself and Mr Kelly is still above ground. Due notice of the interment will be given.—S J Tilden.

CONGRESSIONAL

Senate

Washington, Feb 9.

[illegible] from the military committee [illegible] for the relief of Fitz John Porter [illegible].

Resolutions of the [illegible] legislature favoring [illegible] were [illegible] and ordered printed.

House

[illegible]

By Kelly, for the issuance of new [illegible] in place of [illegible].

By Springer, to prevent general legislation on appropriation bills.

Bliss offered a resolution giving the use of the new national museum hall in the [illegible] grounds at Washington to the national democratic convention. Referred.

By Buckner, to reduce the duty on printing and other paper. Also for refunding part of the 6 per cents of '81.

By Phillips, conferring on the court of claims jurisdiction over claims now being prosecuted before the quartermaster general, the commissary general and the third auditor.

By Deuster, for a uniform rule of certification.

By White, to reduce and reorganize the army.

All the states and territories having been called, the speaker stated that he had been notified of several motions to suspend the rules to be made from committees. He therefore recognized first Ryan to submit such motion on the part of the committee on public lands.

Weaver rose to a point of order that under such a rule individual members of the house would be forever excluded from the right to make such a motion.

The speaker stated that he had last session and this session laid down a rule for himself, that where a member representing a committee rose to move to suspend a rule the chair would recognize him in preference to any individual member. He thought that that was not only right and proper but that it was in the direction of legislation.

Conger reminded the speaker of a point made by him (Conger) last Monday as to the right of the members in minority to be recognized.

The speaker said that he had taken that point into consideration and had now recognized a member of a minority here still smaller, that whenever the gentleman from Iowa has a motion to submit from a committee the chair will recognize him first.

Gillette—I want to know how the party of the center can represent a committee.

Speaker—There is no such committee known to the house rules as committee of the center. The chair has no doubt of the fairness, equity and propriety of his position.

Ryan thereupon, from the committee on public lands, moved to suspend the rules and pass the bill creating an additional land district, the southwestern, in Kansas. Passed.

Thomas, from committee on revision of laws, moved to suspend the rules and pass the bill to regulate practice in suits brought to recover damages for infringement of patents. Agreed to and bill passed.

CHINESE TRADE.

Chinamen "Cornering" the Sandwich Island Trade—Freights on the West Coast.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

New York Feb 9—Capt Bockman of the steamer Electra, just arrived here from Amoy, thinks that the present Chinese emigration to the Sandwich Islands will increase and that eventually they will supercede Americans, Germans and English there in the control of trade, as they belong to the respectable model class of the real mandarins, and are intelligent and well off Chinese merchants. The steamship company will continue to run its vessels there and appears to be entering upon new lease of life, having recently purchased three or four new steamers. The company is holding its own, has an increasing trade, receiving a subsidy of $500,000 yearly. Capt Bockman says that freights were very high all along the coast when he left and were likely to continue so for some time. He was offered £3 10s to England. As evidence of the reviving trade all through the east, the captain says that he passed twenty-nine loaded steamers in the Suez canal, all in one day, something wholly unprecedented in his experience.

THE NORTHWEST.

Eastern Oregon.

A stabbing affray occurred at Weston on the 3d inst. Wm Ellis and A B Mackey had a dispute about some horses; some high words passed, when Mackey drew a knife and stabbed Ellis in the bowels, inflicting a dangerous wound. It is hoped that it will not prove fatal.

At a meeting of republicans was held at Pendleton last week for the purpose of selecting a county central committee. Major Conoyer presided. After some time had been spent in conference, the following persons were chosen: Fred Page-Tustin, chairman; R Eastland, secretary; Thos Kirk, T J Fletcher, N A Cornoyer, Jacob Probstel, J H Koontz, E Gilliam, C M Mallory, J S Vinson, J C Franklin, T H Bisbee, A C Pettys and Geo Redding. Fred Page Tustin was chosen to represent Umatilla county in the state central committee and was instructed to urge that the coming state convention be held at the Dalles.

Southern Oregon.

The farmers of southern Oregon are waiting impatiently for good weather.

The cabin of Stephen Oyster, on Thompson creek, was burned to the ground one day last week during his absence. The loss is estimated at $200.

Two men, Roberts and O'Neil, were thrown into Bear creek last week by the breaking down of a wagon on which they were riding. The former was struck by one of the horses above the eye and severely cut.

Butte creek correspondence: Stock is faring tolerably well in this section. Horses seem to be more affected than cattle by the severe weather, several having died recently. Mr Brown has lost three head, Obenchain Bros eight, and others in proportion.

Eastern Washington.

Spokan Falls wants an express office.

Another beautiful waterfall has been discovered in the Upper Spokan.

The population of the Spokan county has nearly doubled in twelve months. An immense crop of wheat will be raised this year.

Southern Oregon Mines.

[From the Jacksonville Times.]

Too cold for effective mining.

The Josephine mine on Rogue river is in full blast.

The miners of Sterling are working a portion of each day, Geo Yaudes informs us.

The Squaw Lake Company will be ready for active operations when the cruel freeze is over.

John Atteberry has four hands employed in his claims on Jackass creek and promises a good report this season.

[illegible] Beck will put a pipe on his diggings next season, being dissatisfied with the old pick and shovel method.

J I Layton, on Farris gulch, has his ditch cleared of slides and has been piping for a short time, though the weather is again interfering.

The Sterling Company is able to utilize but a small amount of water owing to the freezing weather. Only one pipe is operated and that during the larger portion of the day.

R A Cook of Foots creek reports that cold weather has not affected the miners of that section as much as it has those elsewhere and most of them are busily at work.

The Applegate Gravel Company and Chappel, Lekelson & Co are piping away, mindful of the fact that Old Boreas would assert his sway. Both are sanguine of excellent returns.

Cold weather is also pestering the miners of Josephine county, who are enabled to run only a portion of the day. Should the cold snap end sometime the prospects are good for a remunerative run there.

Frank [illegible] from Galice creek reports mining progressing there, though it has been considerably retarded by the prevailing weather. The outlook for a prolonged season is encouraging however.

Gin Lin made a clean-up one day last week which yielded him ninety ounces of gold, or nearly $1600. When it is considered that Gin has been able to operate his pipes but only a short time since his last clean-up it will readily be seen that he is doing pretty well.

The [illegible] says: Certainly the renomination of Gen Grant even under extraordinary circumstances would mean hopeless defense all through the canvass and certain defeat at its close.

THE PACIFIC COAST.

CALIFORNIA.

Tariff Rates on Chinese Imports Considered by San Francisco Merchants.

San Francisco, Feb 9—A meeting of merchants was held at W T Coleman's office this morning, to consider the question of tariff on Chinese rice and starch. Most of the starch manufactories were represented by agents. It was suggested that Congressman Davis had already introduced a bill to raise the duty on rice and it was therefore decided to let that part of the question alone. A resolution was adopted asking that the tariff on China rice be raised from [illegible] to [illegible], the [illegible] rate to remain unchanged.

Kalloch Addresses Unemployed Men at the Sand Lot

San Francisco, Feb 9—A large number of unemployed workingmen assembled on the sand lot this afternoon, where they were addressed by Mayor Kalloch. He gave them to understand that within a few days Chinatown would be legally declared a nuisance and that the work resulting from such declaration would give them employment. He counseled them to refrain from any illegal or injudicious action until they heard from him again.

A Talk about an Inter-Oceanic Canal

A committee of the board of trade met this afternoon to discuss the question of an inter-oceanic canal by the rival Panama and Nicaragua routes. The discussion was informal and further action was deferred pending the receipt of a copy of the plans and surveys of the Panama route, the committee being already in possession of those of the Nicaragua route.

Death of one of the Peking's Officers from Smallpox

San Francisco Feb 9—First Assistant Engineer Collins of the steamship City of Peking died at the smallpox hospital to-day from the disease contracted on board that steamer.

Assessment

Justice levies an assessment of 50 cents.

Officers of the Peking to be Prosecuted.

San Francisco, Feb 9—The board of health to-day considered matters in connection with smallpox on board the steamship City of Peking, and as the result of the deliberations the quarantine officer will immediately take steps to prosecute the captain, first officer and surgeon of the Peking. The pilot will also probably be prosecuted.

Kalloch will Talk at the Sand Lots.

A committee of unemployed workingmen appointed at the sand lot meeting last Saturday, waited upon Mayor Kalloch to-day with a view of making some arrangement for the employment in public works of those in need. The mayor informed the committee that he would talk to unemployed men any time that the committee would get them together on the sand lot.

Suicide

Sacramento Feb 8—The body of an unknown man was found this morning in a cabin near the railroad 2½ miles west of Sacramento. He had committed suicide by shooting himself in the head.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY

Dr. Minor going East.

Port Townsend Feb 9—Dr Thomas T Minor, health officer of Puget Sound district and delegate elect to the national republican convention, left with his family for the eastern states to-day.

Notes.

The Chinese are celebrating their new year in the usual way.

The steamship Dakota left for Victoria Sunday morning.

Business Failure at Olympia.

Olympia, Feb 9—Crosby, Davis & Co, stationers, who have several suits pending against them, have petitioned the court for a stay of all proceedings and permission to make an assignment for the benefit of their creditors. A hearing will be had March 22d.

BRITISH COLUMBIA

Great Loss of Stock.

Victoria Feb 9—The condition of stock in the interior of the mainland continues very critical, and it is feared that unless the weather quickly moderates and the snow disappears, the season will prove extremely disastrous to cattle raisers, particularly those of the central section of the province. In the upper country the loss of stock will not be nearly so great as it will throughout Kamloops, Nicola and Okanagan districts. At the former place the snow is still three feet deep. At Nicola it is unusually deep. It is fully expected that large numbers of sheep will die at the latter place. On the whole the outlook for stock raisers is far from encouraging.

Shipping.

The steamship Victoria sailed Saturday and the steamship Empire on Sunday for San Francisco.

The barkentine Maloy is loading at south Wellington mine, Departure Bay, and will be ready for sea about Thursday.

The ship Ericson is loading at the north Wellington mine, and will be ready about the end of the week.

LAKE COUNTY.

A Good Showing for this Prosperous Section—Extraordinary Growth, Etc., Etc.

[State Line Herald, Jan 31.]

So far our winter has been severe, but not nearly so bad as by some represented. A correspondent of the Bulletin expresses truth boldly when he accuses some one of misrepresenting and magnifying the severity of our winter. We can see no lasting good to come from misrepresentations of this kind. That some stock and in certain localities considerable numbers have and may yet perish is very probable, but that there has been so far any such loss as has in some instances been declared we believe to be wholly untrue. Lakeview is almost in the center of the great bunch grass range of Southeastern Oregon and certainly has better facilities for ascertaining the truth in this matter than places at a great distance. There are many stock raisers in Lake, Grant and Baker counties who have grown wealthy from small beginnings in this business, and in this climate, and who instead of leaving a climate so unsuited to their business and so rigorous are increasing their possessions in every way and trying to discourage immigration, not for the good of those they would discourage but to avoid being crowded. We are certain that facts and circumstances of the settlement, growth and prosperity of our county do not bear out the assertions of the traducers of our country and climate. Let us see. Lake county is but six year old and has taxable property to the value of nearly $1[illegible], having [illegible] per cent within the past year. If the experience of the older settlers is that we have a climate so very rigorous and unreliable, why is it that they are concentrating their possessions here and increasing the chances of so inclement a climate to do them damage? From our exchanges we learn that the severity of the present winter has not been confined to any section of the country, and that sections noted for salubrity and [illegible] of climate have suffered even more than we. Those who have and will suffer most in this climate are those who have neglected necessary preparation. Below we give the taxable property of Lake county for each year from 187[illegible] to 18[illegible] inclusive, which shows the [illegible] of property and polls for each year over the preceding one:

[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
1879	[illegible]	[illegible]

This shows at a glance that a great [illegible] of property [illegible] county was [illegible].

We have conversed with many [illegible] and are assured that unless there be a great [illegible] of bad weather before spring the loss of stock will not be great.

[illegible], it seems, has a rival in England of more or less formidable proportion, who may deprive the Menlo Park [illegible] of some of his laurels. Joseph W Swan of Gateshead publishes a letter in the [illegible], the following being the essential portion:

Fifteen years ago I used [illegible]

Bret Harte is in London and his health is reported as very poor.

BOOK NOTICES

THE WINTER'S TALE. New York: Harper & Brothers. For sale by A L Bancroft & Co, San Francisco.

As the several preceding volumes of the Shakespeare series which is being issued by Harper & Brothers have appeared we have commended the plan and execution of the work. The Winter's Tale, as the other volumes, is edited with notes by Wm J Rolfe A M, formerly head master of the high school at Cambridge, Mass. Mr Rolfe's history of the play, his analysis of its method and the purposes of its author form a charming introduction to the play itself and is a scholarly essay indicating deep research by an ardent Shakespearean student.

THE BOY TRAVELERS IN THE FAR EAST, OR THE ADVENTURES OF TWO YOUTHS IN A JOURNEY TO JAPAN AND CHINA. By Thomas W Knox. New York: Harper & Bros. San Francisco: A L Bancroft & Co. One vol. quarto, illustrated.

This is a freely illustrated narrative of the travels of fictitious characters in Japan and China. It is written for children and conveys in simple and interesting text much information, while the attention is kept and the curiosity piqued by sufficient of plot and story form to engage the juvenile mind from the first to the last page. Probably this is the first book written from other than a religious standpoint to convey information to the boys and girls of America concerning the lands of curiosity and mystery. Mr Knox's descriptive powers are unquestioned—they exceed his endeavors in the realm of fiction by far, for he is not nearly so good a story teller as he is a descriptive writer. However he has sufficient tact to address himself to youth in the narrative form, and this with more ease and success than we would have given him credit for, judging from his previous efforts. His book is one which any child may read to advantage, and which cannot fail to interest, amuse and instruct.

ART IN AMERICA. A Critical and Historical Sketch by S G W Benjamin. New York: Harper & Bros. For sale by A. L. Bancroft & Co, San Francisco.

We have here a freely illustrated and highly embellished work, with about one hundred choice plates (wood cuts), reproducing in miniature specimen works of such artists as Copley, Simbert, Newton, Lolly, Le Clear, Baker, Mount, Weir, Durand, Richards, Cropsey, Church, Mignot, Lafarge, Moran, Casilear, Magrath, Rogers, Palmer, Hartley, Gibson, Reinhart, Eakins, Tiffany, Dielman, Murhman, Sartain, Powers, Ward, Story, Bridges and others. Mr Benjamin is the author of "Contemporary Art in Europe," a series of articles of recent appearance, which attracted much attention for their historic accuracy, clearness of perception and impartiality of judgment, as well as for grace of diction. Mr Benjamin cannot be said to be a believer in the genius of art; he takes the high ground that the art of a nation is the result of growth—centuries of growth, and that with it, as with all other efforts of the human intellect, its crowning excellence comes only when maturity and repose "offer the occasion for its development." It is one of the chief merits of the test of this writer that at no time does he permit his judgment to be carried from its basis by enthusiasm. He, perhaps, may be more properly styled an art historian than an art critic, his work partaking more of the nature of history than of criticism, but it is by no means lacking in critical character force. The work should not be classed as a full history, however, but rather as an outline of the growth of arts in America. This seems to have been the modest aim of the writer, and he has subordinated criticism to it. He has not considered the claims of a number of prominent American artists resident abroad to a place in his record, but, as he apologetically suggests, it was necessary to draw a line somewhere, and to have discussed the productions of American artists away from home would have enlarged the scope of the work too greatly to have permitted its issuance in such a form as to popularize it, and this was one aim, evidently, of the production—to invite reading by those who have heretofore given but little time to the consideration of art culture. The articles in this work originally appeared in serial form in Harper's Magazine, but in their new arrangement possess new interest.

THE NORTH AMERICANS OF ANTIQUITY. By John T Short. New York: Harper & Brothers. For sale by A L Bancroft & Co., San Francisco.

Though the field traversed by this book has been much worked by Baldwin, Foster and others, this author contributes no small quantity of valuable matter which he has worked into new forms, and in many cases to different conclusions from those reached by his predecessors. The writer has given himself room enough to traverse most of the field indicated by his title. The facts are of course few and scant, and are of a character which requires patient investigation and a mind trained to inductive studies to work them out. One inquirer may make much of evidence which to another would furnish no information. It is an undoubted fact of history that Eric the Red of Sweden visited the northern coast of America in the tenth century and a settlement was afterwards founded by his son. There is tolerably strong evidence that the Welsh visited North America in the twelfth century. There is an unverified statement that the Irish were in the region of South Carolina in the sixth century, which was then known as Whitemen's Land. In the fourth century a Chinese traveler landed somewhere on the Pacific coast and made his way far into Mexico. But there were inhabitants long before any of these dates. Recently, in the Lake Superior region some miners came upon an old shaft thirty feet below the present surface. They found at the bottom of it a mass of copper on what is called skids for removal. Two wagon loads of ancient mining tools were also found in the same place. Through the center of the continent down to the gulf are mounds of the most fantastic shapes, some in the form of huge elephants, others in that of serpents. One of the latter has been discovered 1000 feet long. There are also fortifications built on the high bluffs of rivers exhibiting considerable strategic skill. The approaches in some cases display something very like modern engineering. Pottery and implements of various kinds manifesting much art have also been brought to light. We know no better name for those who constructed these works than that of mound builders. But who were the mound builders? [illegible] They had evidently [illegible] to evacuate the country slowly [illegible] the remains as the gulf is approached are of later origin than those in Ohio and New York.

In the ranging of the canyons of Colorado traces are discovered of the cliff dwellers—people who built little houses on the edges of steep precipices which one would suppose only a swallow could reach. These dwellings always have windows looking toward the plains, as lookouts for the enemy which had forced them into these secure retreats. Some of these nests are perched as high as 800 and 1000 feet from the valley below. The pueblo Indians are [illegible] who lived in small fortresses rendered as safe [illegible] elevation and strong building [illegible]. Thence the extraordinary remains [illegible] to Mexico, with all its remains of Nahua, Maya and Aztec civilization. The line of the exploration pursued by Mr Short embraces [illegible] measurements and [illegible] architecture and traditions. But satisfactory results can hardly be said to have been reached. Until the language of the hieroglyphics is read we cannot be said to have gained solid ground in this investigation. But some progress has already been made in this branch of the subject by M de Rosny and other European scientists. The difficulty would not be so great but for the superstition which led to the destruction of a large portion of Maya Mss. They were regarded by some of the early priests as idolatrous and were consigned to the flames. Bishop Landa, who did a good deal of this burning, however discovered the Maya alphabet, which is now being made use of by M de Rosny and his colleagues. If there was nothing else to rely upon but tradition there would be little doubt of the Semetic origin of at least the early inhabitants of the southern portions of the continent. They have a mountain town there—Santa Rosa—which does duty as an Ararat. There is also a clear myth respecting Noah. A Tower of Babel at Cholula was not wanting. The object was to build to heaven to avoid another flood, resulting in a confusion of languages to stop them. Woman was made for man when he slept. There are traces of the Garden of Eden and a tree in the center thereof. The world also the next time is to be destroyed by fire. In the passage of the Mayas to this country many hardships were encountered. The sea divided to let them pass on one occasion. But notwithstanding these striking coincidences we do not think there is much value to be placed on them historically. It is a mistake to suppose that traditions go back always to the beginnings of a race. They are frequently superimposed in different stages of their career. There is for instance among these Mexican traditions a very unmistakable Christ myth. There is nothing to show that it is entitled to less credence than the others. The people of England once believed that they were descended from the Pius Aeneas, Virgil's mythical hero. They went so far as to invent a Brutus to account for the name Britain. In this guise we have without much doubt the story of the Aeneid percolating from the monasteries through the masses and assuming new forms as it spread. In the same way the story of Moses may have been disseminated by the early missionaries in Mexico, and that which is now called tradition is only a reflex of their teachings. Of much more value is the unmistakable myth of the Androgyne found in all the old mythologies. The Palenque tablet bears a striking resemblance to Assyrian sculptures recently discovered. It portrays the old form of the worship of the active principle in nature. But the chances are that we will not have to grope much longer in the dark. It may yet turn out, as some suppose, that America is the old instead of being the new continent.

GEN. HOOD'S MEMOIRS.

Advance sheets of the memoirs prepared by the late General J. B. Hood, to be published for the Hood memorial fund, have appeared. The volume will soon be ready for the market. Aside from the interest connected with the circumstances under which it appears,—as the proceeds are to be devoted to the support and education of Gen. Hood's ten little children, who lost both father and mother about the same time last summer,—the book will undoubtedly attract the attention of military critics and historical writers. A letter from Gen. Beauregard accompanies the advance sheets, requesting fair review of their contents. The writer begins his memoirs with his appointment as cadet at West Point, where he graduated in 1853, in the class of Sheridan, McPherson and Schofield. There follows a rapid account of his service in the army up to the outbreak of the rebellion. Having been brought up in the state sovereignty school of politics, he deemed it right that he should "go with his state." Kentucky being the state of his nativity, he tendered his services for her defense. But after meeting the authorities of that commonwealth he became convinced that "no decided action would be taken,"—that is, that Kentucky would not secede; so with an inconsistency common to the secessionists of the border states, who declared that their first allegiance was due to their respective states, but who, when their states refused to secede, nevertheless threw their fortunes in with the southern confederacy, Gen. Hood repaired to Montgomery and tendered his services to the confederate government. He was sent to Virginia where he was soon given an important command. From this point the narrative proceeds with an account of personal experiences till the close of the war. Its most interesting chapters are those in which he defends himself against the charge of rashness as a commander, and criticises the so-called Fabian policy of Gen. Johnston, whom he superseded in command of the armies opposed to Sherman in Georgia. He says that since he has been charged with rashness, and even recklessness by Gen. Johnston and his adherents, he must be allowed to question Johnston's right to be considered one of the leading southern generals. Since Gen. Johnston fought not a single general battle during the entire war, what, just asks Gen. Hood, has he to generalship? No man is justly entitled to be considered a great general, unless he has won his spurs. Had Gen. Johnston, says Gen. Hood, possessed the requisite spirit and boldness to seize the various chances for victory which were [illegible] him, he never would have allowed [illegible] Sherman to push him back one hundred miles in sixty-six days from one mountain stronghold to another, down into the [illegible] of the confederacy. When Hood [illegible] given the command, the [illegible] positions had been lost; and his [illegible] fighting against Sherman was therefore of no avail. Hood freely criticises the management of the authorities at Richmond, as [illegible] the timid policy of Gen. Johnston. He earnestly urged a movement north in the [illegible] of 1864, and in his letters to the Davis government at Richmond insisted that an aggressive campaign with the sixty or seventy thousand men at command in that part of the confederacy would "defeat or destroy all the armies south of the Ohio river." This probably was a great mistake, but it is certain that Hood's vigorous fighting would have had more effect had it been undertaken at an earlier day.

PACIFIC COAST BUREAU OF AGRICULTURE.

Recently Representative Davis of California introduced in congress a resolution directing the house committee of agriculture to inquire into the most feasible method of extending the benefits of the agricultural bureau or department to those parts of the [illegible] west of the one hundredth meridian, [illegible] by experimental stations, or by closer connection with state boards of agriculture, or a special bureau in the department designed for the section above named, and [illegible] a portion of the annual agricultural report to information furnished by this bureau, and also that the committee of agriculture be directed to represent to the house the [illegible] of their inquiry. The resolution was [illegible] and the proposed inquiry will be set [illegible] by the committee. On this subject the Pacific Rural Press properly remarks that [illegible] difficulty in fitly presenting in the annual agricultural report the facts of the [illegible] and statistics of production [illegible] coast lies in the distance between the department and our fields. It is [illegible] that a proper system of reports [illegible] arranged, transmitted and published [illegible] and the result is that [illegible] our crops and the generalizations on other subjects are necessarily drawn [illegible] insufficient data, or, by the time they reach us, are too old to be of value or use. But if there were a local [illegible] or bureau established on this coast, [illegible] management were given to a man who knows our geography, our seasons, our [illegible] of climate, our styles of agricultural [illegible], and who adds to this the energy and executive ability to organize a system of reports from all localities, there would be data [illegible] concerning our productions and our [illegible] which would constitute a valuable body of information for our agricultural and commercial classes, and especially for those who may be seeking places for settlement on the Pacific slope. It is well remarked that no man whose agricultural observation and experience have been wholly gained in eastern fields can possibly understand our peculiar conditions on this coast and the changed practice which they necessitate. Hence the need of this branch bureau,—if the Pacific coast is to have any benefit from the service of the national department of agriculture.

A GREAT STATE.

Texas is almost the only one of the southern states which is having any real growth in material improvement, population and wealth. Probably its growth is exaggerated by statements of the local press; but, after allowing much for such probable exaggeration, it still remains a fact that great improvement is taking place throughout the state. Nor is this astonishing when the area and resources of Texas are considered. Texas is larger than the whole Austrian empire, with its thirty-five millions of people. United Germany, with its still larger population, falls short of reaching the size of Texas by enough to constitute the great state of Missouri. Of course other European states would look small in extent when projected on the background of Texas. The Galveston News, which recently published a large number full of statistics and glowing with an account of the attractions of the lone star state, undertook a comparison of Texas with the great countries of Europe, and claimed that in extent and variety of resources and amount of arable land Texas makes an exhibit which justifies the expectation that the time will come when thirty millions of people will dwell within her borders. Some almost startling facts are presented in this exhibit. Last year Texas produced 550 000 bales of cotton, nearly one-fifth of the total product of the country; and the claim is made that one-fourteenth part of her cotton land, which will grow one bale an acre, will suffice to furnish all the cotton which the world now supplies. This is only one feature of its prodigious capabilities. The stock interests of the state are developing on a like imperial scale. In sheep the state now stands third in the union, and this year expects to advance to the first place, with a product of twenty-three million pounds of wool. For growth of grain its capacity is on the same scale with its other resources. The state, it is asserted, now contains a population of two millions, but this probably is too high an estimate. It has as yet only 1700 miles of railroad,—no great extent of railway lines for so large a state; but new railroads are building rapidly in almost every direction. The school fund is claimed to be the largest of any state, being based on state lands which it is estimated would now show an aggregate value of fifty seven million dollars.

MASONRY ON THE NILE.

Reports received recently by telegraph concerning the alleged discovery of Masonic emblems beneath the pedestal of the obelisk now being transferred from Egypt to New York but faintly indicated the interest taken in a discovery which it is claimed supplies the evidence needed to establish a most important link in the chain of Masonic history. The claim is that from these discoveries it is ascertained that Masonry originated with the construction of the pyramids, which of course throws it back into a remote antiquity, more remote, indeed, than has been currently claimed by its most enthusiastic adherents. The enthusiasm of some goes so far as to give rise to expression of the confident opinion that this discovery will lead to a solution of the mystery of the construction of the pyramids. But among journals which have been taking an intelligent and very lively interest in the matter is the New York World, and it counsels its readers against a too ready acceptance of the theories put forth by the enthusiasts. It is, indeed, much more probable that certain rites and forms of masonry are derived from ancient legends and ceremonies of Egypt, than that anything now distinctively known as masonic rites and ceremonies existed in their present form in that twilight of time. It is true that among the most persistent and enduring things among men are survivals of old forms of culture; and yet they are often among the hardest things to trace through the ages and identify with the appearances they present in our own times.

Washburne is the favorite candidate for the presidency of a large class of republicans who are most outspoken against Grant. Possibly, however, it may diminish their regard for Washburne to learn that he himself is a warm supporter of Grant. All the western papers have specials from New York, dated 28th and 29th January, announcing that Washburne, who had been two days in New York and was on his way to Boston, was an outspoken Grant man, and that he feels so sure Grant will be tendered and will accept the nomination that any talk of possibilities and contingencies respecting himself does not concern him in the least. It may be supposed, however, that all this indicates simply that Washburne will not oppose Grant or be a candidate against him. It would not, indeed, be expected that he would place himself in that position. He has always been an earnest friend and supporter of Grant, and Grant has reciprocated. Now that Grant is again proposed for the presidency, Washburne will not allow his own name to come up against him; but when "the Grant boom" has spent its force, Washburne will be in a different position. It may be predicted that when the time comes he will be ready to "accept the call" of his countrymen.

A special from Washington to the Chicago Tribune says that the proposition to extend the time of the Northern Pacific land grant is coming up again; that it is believed by a large part of congress to be a meritorious measure, and that if it stood by itself it would doubtless pass. But there is reason to believe that the friends of the Texas Pacific scheme are in lying in force to prevent the passage of the Northern Pacific, unless the other is agreed to also. It is, indeed, already known that the Texas Pacific lobby are working to get a log-rolling combination, to include both measures or allow neither to pass. But it is not likely that the friends of the Northern Pacific will enter into this scheme. That company can still hold their land grant and make it available, though doubtless it would be an advantage to obtain a definite extension, so that capitalists might have more positive notice as to the status of the grant.

We have received a note from Mr. William Reid, containing a positive denial of the statement that he was at Salem, in 1878, opposing the bill under which, if passed, there would have been no doubt of the liability of foreign corporations doing business in the state to pay their just proportion of taxes. Mr. Reid shall have the benefit of this denial, although our information was such that we could not help drawing the conclusion stated. But there is no occasion for controversy over these small points of dispute. The whole subject is summed in proper statement of the necessity of making such changes in the laws and in the manner of enforcing them as will make all property equally subject to taxes, at fair valuation.

Senator Dan Voorhees of Indiana continues to press his investigation of the cause of the negro exodus from North Carolina to his state. He is the most senseless and fit man for that kind of thing, and for testimony he gets whole floods of twaddle and hogwash. It doesn't appear that there was any reason for the exodus, except that the exodists wanted to change their place of residence,—a thing which multitudes of other people are doing constantly. Even Voorhees himself began life in Ohio, emigrated to Minnesota, and finally brought up in Indiana. Why not investigate the several "exoduses" he has made.

A detailed statement published in the Chicago Inter-Ocean shows that no less than 3,087 American vessels are afloat on the great lakes. What will strike the reader as very remarkable is the statement that the tonnage arriving and clearing at Chicago during the season of lake navigation—May 1 to November 30—is equal to the whole tonnage arriving and clearing at the three great ports of Boston, Philadelphia and Baltimore, and nearly equal to that arriving and clearing at New York.

Governor Pitkin, of Colorado, is skeptical of the aboriginal virtue of the noble red man Ute Jack, and thinks he has pulled the wool over the eyes of the trusting head of the interior department, who will hear no more of him or the guilty Utes he is to bring in after he once gets free of white jurisdiction on the Colorado plains. The governor has pretty clear views of untutored Indian human nature.

President Billings, of the Northern Pacific railroad, has directed Joseph T. Dodge, civil engineer, to make immediately a reconnoissance of the Yellowstone valley, preparatory to an early survey for extension of the road several hundred miles up the Yellowstone. Mr. Dodge left St. Paul on this mission on the 28th January.

Flour Mills and Farm Lands for Sale at a Bargain for Thirty Days.
THE UNDERSIGNED, WITH A VIEW OF DISsolving their present business connection, offer for sale both of their Three-Run Flour Mills and 160 acres of Land. The Mill at Turner Station is on the switch of the O. & C. Railroad, in Marion county, contains three run of stone, with Hurst timbers in and designed for six run, and is the neatest and best arranged mill in the State. The Aumsville Mill is four miles from Turner, on the proposed line of O. C. S. P. Road in a good locality for getting wheat, has three run of store and necessary machinery, and the best frame of a mill house in the state, with 13 acres of land, dwelling house, barns &c. Both mills on Mill creek with abundance of water all the time. The land is situated close to Aumsville with dwelling house, barns &c. One hundred acres under cultivation, Mill creek runs through part of it making it a desirable place for dairying as well as agriculture. The whole or any one parcel sold separate or together, and if not sold be ore the 17th day of March, will be offered at public auction at 11 A. M. on that day at Turner. So remember the 17th day of March if you want the best and cheapest mill in the State. And if said property shall be sold prior to the day named, due notice will be given. Any particulars can be had by addressing M. COCKERLIN & CO., Turner. f10d1w1m

TUESDAY MORNING FEB 10 1880

WEATHER PROBABILITIES.

WASHINGTON Feb 10—1 30 A M For Pacific coast partly cloudy with rains

CITY.

AN INSANE WANDERER.—Shortly after day light yesterday morning a woman covered with mud and carrying in her arms an infant aged 10 months was found wandering aimlessly around the boulevard about three miles above town The child was nearly chilled to death and its mother almost worn out with hunger and fatigue The strangeness of her conduct led the people of the neighborhood to think her insane She was furnished with food and shelter until the arrival of a policeman who escorted her charges to the city jail There can be no doubt of the poor woman's insanity She gives her name as Samanthia Johnson and is 33 years and hails from Liberty Ohio She arrived on the steamer Sunday after noon in search of her husband James Johnson a laborer employed on the Columbia river She engaged rooms at the Richmond House but left there at a very early hour yesterday morning and had traveled through the timber for several hours when discovered A little money some jewelry and a gold watch were found in her possession Mrs Johnson is a woman of medium height spare built and was clothed in a black serge dress black jacket straw hat of the same color and rubber overshoes. Her husband or any other person who may know the woman is requested to call at the station and identify her She will be probably sent to the asylum until claimed by her friends A man named Caroths was her traveling companion from the states to this city

POSTOFFICE IMPROVEMENTS Carpenters have been engaged for several days in making some long needed alterations and improvements to the interior of the postoffice The partition which separated the western or back entrance into two smaller ones has been torn down The shelves divided into pigeon holes that have long been ranged along the wall, and used in the general distribution of mail matter to be sent from that office have also been removed In the center of the room is to be placed a circular table, around the outer edge of which hooks will be placed so that thirty-two mail sacks can be hung A space will be left in the center of the table large enough for a man to stand The mail to be distributed will be emptied on the table and the clerk, standing in the middle, can easily reach the papers in any direction and toss them into the proper sack This arrangement will greatly increase the rapid handling of the mails, and there will be less liability for papers to go astray than formerly In a few days the table will be ready for use Some desirable changes are also being made in the money order department

BUILDERS' PROTECTIVE UNION.—A contemporary says A few weeks since the lumbermen formed a protective association, and last Saturday a call was issued to manufacturers and dealers in builders' material to meet at the business establishment of Messrs. Coggins & Beach in the evening At the hour appointed that particular avenue of trade was represented by the leading dealers of the city Mr. George Ainsley was elected president, and Clifford Coggins secretary The object of the meeting was stated to be the formation of a manufacturers' and dealers' protective association. After considerable discussion it was unanimously agreed that no contractor would be furnished material except for cash or upon an order being presented from the owner of the property This protects the dealers and at the same time is received with gladness by the substantial contractor, as he is thereby protected from the inroads of irresponsible parties.

DEATH OF CAPTAIN HARRIMAN.—Letters received in this city convey intelligence of the death in Belfast, Maine, on the 19th of January last, of Capt. H D Harriman of the American bark Wildwood. Capt Harriman had many acquaintances and warm friends in Portland, where his ship remained for a year, from June, 1878, to June 1879 They will regret to learn that in the prime of life he has been called away. His last voyage in command was that from this port, which began in June last year and terminated at Liverpool in November. Being in ill health on his arrival in England, he left his ship and returned to his home in Belfast. Though so long sick he was confined to his bed only five days before his death He was 44 years of age and leaves a wife, but no children Wherever known Capt. Harriman was highly respected.

MEETING CREDITORS.—A meeting of the creditors of Louis Salomon a prominent merchant of Junction City, Lane county who is financially embarrassed, was held in this city Saturday. His liabilities are $35,000 or $60,000, of which about $45,000 is due to Portland jobbing houses, and between $10,000 and $15,000 in San Francisco A proposition was made by the creditors to have Mr Salomon to make an assignment, they to appoint a receiver and when 60 per cent of the indebtedness shall have been paid, that the remainder of the assets be turned over to Salomon, the creditors taking his notes at one year for the amount This proposition was not accepted by Mr Salomon, who stated that if leniency were granted him he could easily pay his indebtedness and have from $15,000 to $20,000 The case now is in statu quo

PORTLAND-VANCOUVER BRIDGE.—Under the direction of the contractors work on the long bridge on the Portland and Vancouver road is being pushed forward as vigorously as possible. Sunday morning the steamer Veto went down to Rainier after a load of lumber to be used in the work Captain Foster delivers all the lumber and timbers from St Helens and Rainier, free of charge About twenty men are engaged on the bridge which will be completed and ready for use in a short time. This will be one of the most fashionable drives from this city during the summer season

DEATH OF MRS HARBAUGH.—The many friends of Mrs Harbaugh the beloved wife of Mr. F. Harbaugh, will be pained to hear of the death of that very estimable lady She died at her home in this city yesterday Mrs. Harbaugh came to Portland many years ago with her husband and has resided here almost constantly The deceased was a loving mother and a kind and devoted wife Her death will be sincerely regretted by a large circle of friends

CHINESE NEW YEAR

Graphic Description of its Celebration by the Almond eyed Celestials of this City

EXPERIENCES AT THE [illegible] OPERA HOUSE

The residents of Portland who emigrated from the Celestial empire have been making extensive preparations during the past week to celebrate their New Year's day which began at 12 o clock Sunday night Every anticipation of the heathen was fully realized and nothing was wanting to make the occasion one of the most perfect enjoyability and pleasure All, almost [illegible] The Chinese population to a man were clad in their best Sunday clothes and greeted each other with the same cordiality that characterizes the greetings of their white brethren The rich merchants entertained their friends with champagne, rice wine essence of corn from Kentucky fine [illegible] cigars—and they weren't five cent cabbage leaves either—and all the delicacies of the season This being leap year a few of the fashionable young gentlemen kept open house and received calls from giddy young ladies who entered into the spirit of calling with all the ardor of the stronger sex

At 12 o clock yesterday morning a selected orchestra of sixteen pieces of cat gut brass cymbals and tin under the leadership of Ic [illegible] Ding Dong performed some choice pieces from Binyk's Pinafore progress at the Pinafore Opera House on Second street between Washington and Alder Some gentleman whose name could not be ascertained, a gem in much force and spirit translated a selection from the opera which is translated as follows

We are the monarchs of this coast
And we do proudly boast
That we snap our fingers at Kearney's yaup's
And so do our sisters and our cousins and our aunts
And especially our cousins
Whom we reckon up by dozens
And our au——nts

The song was loudly applauded by the large audience who by a unanimous resolution voted to send him to Washington to testify before the exodus commission provided Senator Voorhees would forward a round trip pass

Miss Chung Sui then sang without accompaniment the exquisite gem "There were three crows sat on a tree" Her voice was never so bird like clear full compassed or perfect at any previous performance as on this occasion In numerous passages her singing was bewitchingly sweet From the powerful ringing tone of a clarionet her voice faded away until it floated over the vast audience as sweet and low as the singing breath of a summer zephyr tremulously playing among the chords of an Eolian harp—weird and grand artistic and natural In response to an encore Miss Hun sang "Mollie Darling" with a marvelous grace and the most delicate modulation of voice That touching plaintive melody never before seemed half as beautiful or pathetic as in the rendering she gave to it. Mr Dong Ding then arose and read a tribute to the prima donna who leaves on the outgoing steamer for St John's It is translated as follows

Adieu O peerless bird of melody
We wave tear spangled hands in fond adieu
For every limpid song poured out by you
Fell in our hearts and brimmed them lavishly
With purest love and sweetest ecstasy
The music of the voice we listened to
Shall murmur down our sleep and ripple through
Our fairest dreams until our slumbers be
Such landscapes as the seraphs wander o'er
Stroking the quivering strings of harps of gold
And lifting happy voices evermore
So shall we dream as dreamed the gods of old
Or haply as your own dreams had before
Joss sent you to us from the angel shore.

The orator of the evening Hon Choung Choung then arose and unrolling a large bundle of manuscript, began "The revolving wheels of time —" (voice in the crowd "Cheese it That's too old ") And we hasten with swiftness towards the —(another voice "Give us something new Tell us about Maine ") He began again in the same strain, but the audience would not listen and howled him down

A long discussion then ensued on the feasibility of presenting petitions to the council asking that the ordinance forbidding them to celebrate their new years with firecrackers, be repealed. It was finally decided, in view of the very cool reception of the petitions relative to the new reform ordinances, that nothing could be done for the present. The meeting closed about 5 A. M with the doxology, " We won't go home till morning

AMUSEMENTS.

NEW MARKET THEATER.—"Our American Cousin" drew a fair sized audience at New Market last night, and was thoroughly enjoyed Mr Chaplin as Lord Dundreary seems to have made a careful study of the part, and has the hop, skip and jump of E A Sothern which made the latter famous in the part almost to perfection Mr Simms as Asa Trenchard made a typical, bold Yankee and created no little merriment. The remainder of the cast was in excellent hands and the parts acceptably rendered.

This evening Miss Josie Cameron who appeared a few weeks ago at Baldwin's theater, in the character of "Julia in "The Hunchback" will make her bow in the same role On the occasion of her debut in San Francisco, Miss Cameron achieved a degree of success quite gratifying to her numerous friends. With scarcely an exception the press of that city spoke of the young lady's maiden histrionic effort very encouragingly She comes here with high endorsements as being a lady of culture and refinement, who has a laudable ambition to achieve success in the dramatic profession. She has devoted some time to the study of the character of "Julia" and will no doubt be able to realize the expectation raised. We bespeak for Miss Cameron a full house.

GRAND CONCERT.—The programme announced this morning for the concert at Turn Halle for the benefit of the Masonic board of relief contains the names of the leading musical talent of the city From a glance at the selections it is safe to say that it will be one of the most interesting entertainments of the kind ever given in the city The box sheet will be open at 10 o clock this morning at D W Prentice & Co's.

[illegible]

A communication was read from the master of the ship [illegible] in relation to the grounding of that vessel near Walker's Island in the lower Columbia, while on the way from Portland to Astoria The captain of that ship attributes the grounding of his vessel to gross and culpable neglect of the part of the pilot A H Sto[illegible] and asked that the matter be investigated

The matter was unanimously referred to the committee on navigation with instructions to confer with the board of pilot commissioners and request that the charge preferred be investigated

A communication was received from the Maritime Association of New York in relation to the question of reduction of pilot rates and also the abolishment of compulsory pilotage both being detrimental to [illegible] American commerce Accompanying the circular letter was a petition asking for the earnest co operation of the board of trade

On motion the president and secretary of the board were authorized to sign the petition and to forward the same to the secretary of the association

BANKRUPT LAW

Communications were read from the Boston board of trade asking the co operation of the Portland board in endeavoring to secure the passage by congress of a protective bankrupt law also from the Boston Merchants Association in relation to the same matter

After discussing the question for some time the board adopted the following resolution

Resolved That a special committee be appointed by the president and instructed to confer with Judge Deady for his views on the proposed bankrupt law from Boston and New York boards of trade failing his time being occupied to consult some other legal gentleman with power to such committee to telegraph approval and such other recommendations as may be made to the Boston board of trade and communicate also with our representatives in congress these recommendations

President McCraken appointed the following persons to act as such committee—Wesley Jackson and Mr Prindle

A communication was read from the board of trade of New York in regard to invoking congressional aid in securing cheaper railroad transportation referred to the committee on commerce

ABOUT SECURING ROOMS

The special committee appointed at a previous meeting to lease suitable rooms for the use of the board submitted a report The report was discussed for some time and disposed of by the adoption of the following resolution

Resolved That the question of providing rooms for this board be referred back to the committee on rooms with instructions to procure the approval to their contract of the board of directors of the Merchants Exchange Association and report in the next meeting failing such approval to find what other rooms can be obtained, and where and at what rent.

MEMORIALIZING CONGRESS

The following memorial was read (addressed to the committee on ways and means in congress) and on motion the president and secretary were authorized to sign it on behalf of the board and to forward the same by telegraph to Oregon's senators and representatives in congress

PORTLAND Feb 9, 1880

To the Committee of Ways and Means —The undersigned board of trade of the city of Portland in the state of Oregon respectfully urges upon your honorable body, the passage of an act to amend the law relative to the seizure and forfeiture of vessels for breach of the revenue laws Said act is now pending before your honorable committee and is intended to relieve the innocent owners of vessels from penalties and forfeitures of their property for the crimes of others

By order of the board of trade of Portland Oregon under the seal of the board

COPIES ORDERED PRINTED

The secretary was instructed to have 500 copies printed of Col Gillespie's report of the Columbia river bar which was addressed to the United States government, and to distribute them along with the annual report of the board of trade

REFERRED

Col McCraken moved that the report which had been submitted at the last meeting of the board by a special committee, to investigate certain complaints made against the management of the Walula and Walla Walla railroad be referred back to them for further consideration carried

On motion the board adjourned

THE LATE WM M EVANS

Resolutions of Condolence Adopted by the Members of the Portland Bar Spread on the Records of the Circuit Court—Glowing Tributes to the Memory of the Dead Attorney by Hon J N Dolph and Judge F D Shattuck

[illegible]

[illegible] Mr Evans was [illegible] He graduated at Pinkham [illegible] institute [illegible] studied law [illegible] admitted to the bar [illegible] practice of his profession at Washington City [illegible] years ago he removed to San Francisco [illegible] short time [illegible] to Portland to make a permanent home

My acquaintance with Mr Evans commenced shortly after his arrival in this state which was about [illegible] years prior to his death and of that period nearly [illegible] his residence was in [illegible] he fully established here a character for [illegible] sterling worth His appearance at the bar was without ostentation His conduct of the legal matters intrusted to him impressed [illegible] court and the bar with the [illegible] possessed a large degree of good sense [illegible] and genuine ability He was of [illegible] disposition which made him friends and [illegible] impulses which commanded their respect

He appeared to [illegible] expect success only as he earned it, and never [illegible] his own merits He did not belong to a class far too numerous who seem to think the world owes them more consideration than they receive and are therefore always at war with [illegible] I know that with Mr Evans [illegible] heartily reciprocated and [illegible] his merits grew to be [illegible] He had already laid the foundation of [illegible] I looked upon him as a rising [illegible] profession and as destined to become influential in public affairs in his adopted state

When we last saw him in his room among the members of the bar with his well built frame his robust health and in the strength of early manhood little we thought that before another term of the court we would be called upon to consign his mortal remains [illegible] city of the dead But death is no respecter of persons [illegible] ninety [illegible] tion no season is exempt from his inexorable summons In the vigor of manhood in the beginning of his usefulness while hope was ardent and the [illegible] unreached the remorseless messenger called him to pass the mystic river and to enter the realms of the great beyond Suddenly the summons came to him so suddenly that he could scarcely believe his physician when told that he must die

But even in this trying hour the unselfishness of his disposition appeared he thought only of his wife and children and for their sake desired to live

Though dead to earth we believe he yet lives that he has passed beyond the sorrows of mortality and entered upon immortality

My brethren more frequent in the future than in the past will death invade our ranks Many of our heads are already blossoming for the grave Many of us are already in the afternoon of life descending with rapid steps into the shadows of the evening Let the untimely death of our brother impress upon us the lesson designed by Him with whom are the issues of life and death

If it were permitted to the departed to hold communion with mortals and the spirit of our departed brother could speak to us to day he would say what the still vivid memory of his sudden death is whispering to our inner consciousness Be earnest, be true to your convictions of right and duty live for the good of humanity for the glory of God and for eternity

At the conclusion of Mr Dolph's remarks Judge L D Shattuck rose and delivered a brief tribute during which he alluded in warm and fitting terms to the virtues and many noble qualities of heart and mind of the departed

Appropriate remarks were also made by J H Woodward, C Ball J W Whalley E D Shattuck and J H Reid

Judge Bellinger in brief and appropriate remarks referred to his acquaintance with deceased and expressed his concurrence with the remarks of the members of the bar who had addressed the court

Judge Bellinger ordered that the resolutions which were adopted soon after the death of Mr Evans, and which have already been published in THE OREGONIAN, be spread on the journal of the court and become a part of the records

The court then adjourned until 9 o clock this morning in respect to the memory of the deceased

ECISION IN THE U S CIRCUIT COURT DEADY J

U S Circuit Court—District of Oregon

SATURDAY Feb 5 1880

The United States vs John Williams No 908. Indictment for attempt to commit murder

ATTEMPT TO COMMIT MURDER. There is no law of the United States for the punishment of the crime of an attempt to commit murder upon land in places within the exclusive jurisdiction thereof, unless committed by some means other than an assault with a dangerous weapon as by poison, drowning or the like

DANGEROUS WEAPON A dangerous weapon is one likely to produce death or great bodily harm and a loaded pistol is such a weapon within the knowledge of the court

IDEM. When it is practicable for the court to declare a particular weapon a dangerous one or not, it is the duty of the court to do so but otherwise it is a question of law and fact to be determined by the jury under the direction of the court.

DEADY, J

On January 7 1879, the grand jury for this district found an indictment against the defendant containing two counts

The first one charges him with "an attempt to commit the crime of murder by means not constituting an assault with a dangerous weapon," by willfully and maliciously "shooting one Edward Robert Roy on October 8, 1879, with a loaded pistol with intent him to murder, at Sitka in the territory of Alaska. The second one charges him with an assault upon said Roy at the time and place aforesaid, with a loaded pistol with intent him to kill, and alleges that said territory of Alaska was then and there Indian territory. The defendant demurred to the indictment upon the ground that the facts stated did not constitute a crime.

The court sustained the demurrer to the second count, holding that Alaska was not "the Indian country" within the purview of § 21 of the act of March 27, 1854, (10 Stat. 270; § 2142 R. S) defining the crime of an assault by a white person within such country, with a deadly weapon with intent to kill and citing U S. v. Savaloff, 2 Saw 311 U S v. Carr, 5 Saw 302, Waters v Campbell, 4 Saw. 31.

The demurrer to the second count was overruled pro forma, whereupon the defendant pleaded guilty thereto and then moved in arrest of judgment for the cause stated in the demurrer.

This count is based upon § 2 of the act of March 3, 1857, (11 Stat. 250; § 5342 R. S) which provides in effect that every person who, within any place or district of country under the exclusive jurisdiction of the United States or upon the high seas or other water within the admiralty jurisdiction thereof and out of the jurisdiction of any particular state, attempts to commit murder, "by any means not constituting the offense of assault with a dangerous weapon," shall be punished,

Without doubt, Sitka in Alaska, is a place within the exclusive jurisdiction of the United States, and so far as this charge is concerned, not within the jurisdiction of any organized or judicial district thereof. Therefore, it appearing from the indictment that the defendant was first brought within this district for trial, it follows that if the alleged act is a violation of any law of the United States, the motion must be denied. (§ 730 R. S.; U. S. v. Carr, supra, 304.)

The only provision in the statutes of the United States for punishing an attempt to commit murder or manslaughter on land is [illegible] in § 5342 supra, but for some reason this is confined to cases where the means used do not constitute "the offense of assault with a dangerous weapon."

The punishment of an assault with a dangerous weapon or with intent to perpetrate a crime committed on the waters within the admiralty jurisdiction of the United States and out of the jurisdiction of any particular state, was provided for in § 4 of the act of March 3, 1825 (4 Stat. 115; § 5346 R. S) but not the attempt to commit murder or manslaughter [illegible] was coincident with such assault [illegible] attempt to commit murder or manslaughter on land or an assault there by [illegible] means committed was not punishable by any law of the United States until [illegible] when, as has been stated, by § 2 of the [illegible] of that year, it was declared [illegible] an attempt to commit murder or manslaughter, whether on land or water, should be punished as therein prescribed, provided, [illegible] attempt was not made by means of the [illegible] mentioned in the act of 1825, supra, [illegible] limiting the operation of the statute to [illegible] made by drowning, poisoning or [illegible]. And probably this was so provided [illegible] the erroneous impression that the act [illegible] was applicable to assaults committed [illegible] land as well as water.

[illegible] however this may be, as a result of [illegible] patchwork legislation, it appears that [illegible] is no punishment provided for an assault with a dangerous weapon committed [illegible] the exclusive jurisdiction of the [illegible], if committed on land —even [illegible] assault should involve as it may and [illegible] an attempt to commit murder.

[illegible] the drawing of the indictment an effort [illegible] made to bring this case within the [illegible] of § 5342, R. S by an averment therein [illegible] the attempt to murder was made "by [illegible] not constituting an assault with a [illegible] weapon." But this is necessarily [illegible] a mere allegation rendered null by the very [illegible] of the commission of the alleged offense [illegible] that the defendant attempted to commit murder by shooting Roy with a loaded pistol.

Whether a particular weapon is a deadly [illegible] one, is generally a question of fact [illegible], owing to the equivocal character of the instrument—as a belaying pin—or the manner and circumstances of its use, the question becomes one of law and fact [illegible] determined by the jury under the direction of the court. But, where it is practicable for the court to declare a particular weapon dangerous or not, it is its duty to do so. [illegible] weapon is one likely to [illegible] or great bodily harm. A loaded pistol is not only a dangerous but a deadly weapon. The prime purpose of its construction and use is to endanger and destroy life [illegible] of such general notoriety, that [illegible] must take notice of it. (U. S. v. [illegible], 5 Carr. 312, U. S. v. Wilson, 1 Bald. [illegible]. It appears, then, from the indictment, notwithstanding the averment therein to the contrary, that the act alleged to be an attempt to commit murder, was an assault with a dangerous weapon, and therefore not punishable by the statute.

[illegible] motion in arrest of judgment must be allowed and the defendant discharged.

[illegible] this ruling the defendant will escape [illegible] for what appears to have been [illegible], but the court cannot in [illegible] act where the law does not so [illegible]. It is the duty of the legislature to [illegible] omission or defect in the law, and [illegible] hoped that the result in this case [illegible] the attention of congress to the [illegible] at an early day.

[illegible] McNary, for the U. S.

The noticeable improvement in the wheat market mentioned on Saturday is continued to-day and though buyers are not by any means as confident as before, they are in better mood in regard to the situation of the trade and have strong hopes of being able to offer such inducements as will incite a more active state of the market. The fear has been, throughout the United States that the immense quantities of wheat on storage at Chicago and other points in the west were under the control of a ring of speculators, and that should they determine to let it loose it might prove very disastrous to smaller dealers who might happen to be carrying heavy stocks. The Chicago Tribune, however, says:

It is folly to contend that the Keene combination has piled up the 14 000,000 or 15,000 000 bushels of wheat stored in Chicago, and the 4 000,000 or 5,000 000 bushels at Milwaukee, and the large accumulations at other points. These accumulations are beyond the control of any "corner," properly speaking, and are the result, primarily, of the exactions of the railroads, which have rendered the forward movement of grain practically impossible, except at a sacrifice of the property itself If Mr Keene and those associated with him have paid for their wheat, they probably have no more than they are able to carry and are little concerned as to the ultimate profit on their investment by the temporary tumble in price so with others who bought wheat at reasonable prices, paid for it stowed it away and are able to keep it until fair rates of transportation open up a market for it In the meantime however the miscellaneous crowd of gamblers following in the wake of actual purchasers and betting upon a continued rise have been overcome by the natural reaction and will lose the money they have risked There seems to be no help for this sort of thing as experience is always ignored and as the fools are always numerous enough to fill up any opening that presents itself

The highest quotation obtainable in the local wheat market to-day is $1 80 an extreme which few buyers concede and these only for choice round lots. Current rates run down 2 ½@5c per cental lower Receipts are increasing Flour is unchanged Provisions come forward rather slowly and for choice lots of bacon round figures are bid Dairy products are more plentiful and eggs have a tendency downward the indications being that the price by the middle of the week will not be above 22½c per dozen

NEW YORK FREIGHTS AND MARKETS

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN]

NEW YORK Feb 9—The clipper freight market continues very dull and there is scarcely anything doing at the wharves of Pacific coast bound vessels Shippers who have got freight are holding back in anticipation that they will be enabled to forward their goods by steamer but they seem to forget that the steamers are not going to run in opposition to the clippers and will want but very little of such freight. Rates remain about steady at last quotations

The ship A D Snow cleared this afternoon but will not get away for a day or two

Tonnage still scarce but the lines are now temporarily supplied the latest charter being the bark Colleesa, 1189 tons in Simonson & Howes line The bark Girard C Tobey has not been withdrawn as previously stated.

Steamer freights very active and the departure of the twelfth will have full cargo. The agent of the company still refuses to make public the new tariff, about which there is much anxiety

With the exception of breadstuffs the markets are rather quiet.

Breadstuffs are stronger and more active for wheat at 1@2½c advance and flour at 5c Export demand for wheat renewed in good part for the continent.

25 Years Before the Public.

THE GENUINE

DR. C. McLANE'S

CELEBRATED

FOR THE CURE OF

Hepatitis, or Liver Complaint,

DYSPEPSIA AND SICK HEADACHE.

Symptoms of a Diseased Liver.

PAIN in the right side, under the edge of the ribs, increases on pressure, sometimes the pain is in the left side, the patient is rarely able to lie on the left side, sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade, and it frequently extends to the top of the shoulder, and is sometimes mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness, the bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternative with lax, the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation in the back part. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant The patient complains of weariness and debility, he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin, his spirits are low; and although he is satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred where few of them existed, yet examination of the body, after death, has shown the LIVER to have been extensively deranged

AGUE AND FEVER

DR C McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, IN CASES OF AGUE AND FEVER, when taken with Quinine, are productive of the most happy results No better cathartic can be used, preparatory to, or after taking Quinine We would advise all who are afflicted with this disease to give them a FAIR TRIAL

For all bilious derangements, and as a simple purgative, they are unequaled

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

The genuine are never sugar coated

Every box has a red wax seal on the lid, with the impression DR McLANE'S LIVER PILLS

The genuine McLANE'S LIVER PILLS bear the signatures of C McLANE and FLEMING BROS on the wrappers

Insist upon having the genuine DR C McLANE'S LIVER PILLS prepared by Fleming Bros of Pittsburgh, Pa the market being full of imitations of the name McLane, spelled differently but same pronunciation

DR. PAUL M. BRENAN

The Most Successful Physician on the Pacific Coast.

IN THE TREATMENT OF ALL

CHRONIC AND DIFFICULT DISEASES.

DR. BRENAN WILL GUARANTEE TO CURE any form of disease of the generative organs or private disease

He has become an expert in the treatment of disease, weakness and derangement of the reproductive organs of both male and female including diseases caused by the

FOLLIES OF YOUTH,

Such as SPERMATORRHEA or SEMINAL WEAKNESS or LOSS OF PERFECT VITALITY Nearly two thirds of all the Chronic Diseases spring either directly or indirectly from some derangement of the sexual system and yet this subject is neglected by the majority of the Medical Profession

I know that persons who are unfortunate enough to be afflicted by any form of sexual disease have a delicacy in calling upon the proper physician in time from a sense of modesty and sometimes from ignorance and permit these diseases to exist until their constitutions become corrupted, their organization broken down and the hope of future happiness blighted, until death becomes a welcome messenger to carry them out of their miserable existence

ANOTHER SUFFERER

Snatched from the Grave.

I THINK IT MY DUTY TO SUFFERING HUMANITY to make the following statement My wife's sufferings were unbearable, doctoring all the time, still she grew worse and weaker every day still she was a mere skeleton As a last and only resort, I was advised to consult DR VAN DEN BERGH, as I must say I had but little faith in her ever getting relieved The Doctor made a very thorough examination, he said it was possible to effect a cure in three months He stated worms were the cause of the gnawing sensation and the great distress and pain in her stomach, also the female and nervous debility and all other miseries After taking his medicine for about ten days she commenced getting better and kept on getting better and gained strength and 16 pounds of solid flesh during the treatment Thanks to the Doctor for saving my wife from an early grave and my little children from being motherless. For any further information inquire at my residence and see my wife herself No 66 South Fifth and Sherman streets.

REMOVAL OF A GRAVEL

The Size of a Walnut Without the Loss of a Single Drop of Blood

After doctoring for seven long years with many doctors and surgeons and suffering during all that time the greatest pain and agony no rest day or night I consulted DR VAN DEN BERGH of 212 First street, Portland he said operation was out of the question but he would remove the stone, which was the size of a walnut, by drilling The first drilling lasted five hours and brought one half of the stone away in small gravel and sand and not a single drop of blood which gave a great deal of relief The following week, after two and a half hours of skillful drilling, the doctor ground the remainder of the stone also in fine gravel and sand without the loss of a single drop of blood and thanks to the doctor's skillful treatment I am cured of the most agonizing and painful malady known to the medical profession For further information call at my place on Sauvie's Island, Willamette Slough THOMAS WILSON

LANDS,

PEN D'OREILLE DIVISION

THE NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY

is now offering for sale nearly

5,000,000

Acres of its lands in the Pen d Oreille Division in Eastern Oregon which are comprised in the odd numbered sections for forty miles on each side of the railroad as now located from the mouth of Snake River in Washington Territory, to Lake Pen d Oreille in Idaho These lands of unexcelled fertility and adapted to farming on any scale that may be desired are offered by the Railroad Company at such prices and terms as cannot fail to induce settlement and cultivation, causing a rapid growth in population of the country, and increase in value to those who now purchase.

The following Resolution of the Board of Directors of the Railroad Company passed November 19th, 1879, fixes the cash price of land to actual settlers at two dollars and sixty cents per acre, which it is believed is a lower price than has ever been voluntarily placed upon its lands by any land grant company This is in fact, cheaper than the settler can purchase the same class of land of the Government under the pre-emption law, for the expense attending the making of final proof and the journey to the land office which he must necessarily make in order to complete his entry, is more than the ten cents per acre added to the government price by the Railroad Company

Resolved That the Agricultural Lands of the Company west of the Missouri river to Puget Sound shall be offered for sale to actual settlers at Government price of $2 50 per acre with an addition thereto of ten cents per acre to be paid to the Company to reimburse it for the cost of selecting surveying and conveying said land

This resolution does not apply to coal or iron lands nor to lands chiefly valuable for timber, nor to lands required for town sites or suitable for manufacturing sites nor in regions where water is scarce to lands containing springs or other natural supply where it shall be for the interest of settlers at large that such water privileges shall not be exclusively held or controlled by any individual nor to the lands required for the use of the Company in connection with the operation of the road

To persons wishing to purchase on time the remarkably low, price of four dollars per acre is given on the following terms One-fourth cash at time of purchase the balance in three equal yearly payments at 7 per cent interest. The above price for time sales is adopted for the present, but may be subject to change in the future

All persons who have filed with the Railroad Company notices of intention to purchase or "Settlers Applications, as they are called, for land in this Division (except for the class of lands reserved by the terms of the resolution above given) and who have continued to reside upon or cultivate the land applied for, are requested to complete their purchase by making cash payment or time contract for the same. For this purpose application should be made to the Railroad Land Office at Colfax

Persons who have not made actual settlement or improvement upon land they may have applied for have no right to the first privilege of purchase such lands will be sold to the first applicant. Those persons who have in good faith settled upon and improved the Company's land should lose no time in securing the same, as after a given time the land is subject to sale to any other person

The land in this division being now offered for sale no more "Settlers Applications" will be filed.
